

READING GOALS FOR SEMESTER 1, 2025

Let's mix it up and get creative with books

This semester I plan to read:

ABOUT: refugees	AT: the beach 	WITH:  my family and torch or candlelight	IN: a log tree cabin	MORE: books about other countries
TO: my dog 	UNDER:  a tree	ON: top of a mountain 	ALL: of a new (to me) series	FROM A DIFFERENT TIME: late 1800's

I also aim to:

RE-VISIT: childhood favourites	CONTACT: an author who inspires me	START: reading straight after breakfast 	TRY: a new food or experience from a book	LISTEN TO: a podcast about children's literature
EXPLORE: different genres - graphic novels	SEND: an awesome book to a friend, or organisation that helps others	WATCH: a book brought to life on the stage or screen	CREATE: a snack, dessert, or lunchbox meal inspired by a book	LEARN: a poem
BUILD: a 3D piece	DISCOVER: an audiobook I enjoy listening to 	RECITE:  some of my favourite quotes from books	CHALLENGE MY THINKING ABOUT: Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Histories	FOLLOW: a book blog for tweens

Background paper image designed by rawpixel.com / Freepik