

WHAT READER PERSONALITY TYPE DO YOU MOST IDENTIFY WITH?

Adventure Seeker

Always chasing the next thrill, the Adventure Seeker dives into stories that transport them to new worlds.

Whether it's a daring quest, a survival saga, or a journey through time and space, this reader craves fast paced plots, unpredictability and the rush of discovery.

Cause Crusader

For readers who care about the world around them and are drawn to stories that inspire action and empathy. Whether it's protecting animals, saving the planet, or standing up for fairness, this reader connects deeply with characters who care. They love books that shine a light on real-world issues and show how even small actions can lead to big change. For the Cause Crusader, reading isn't just about escape, it's about impact and making a difference.

Enchanted Page-Turner

The Enchanted Page-Turner is drawn to stories that sparkle with magic and shimmer with possibility.

They delight in enchanted lands, talking creatures, and characters who dream big and think differently. This reader escapes into worlds where anything can happen and often does. For the Enchanted Reader, every book is a doorway to wonder and they're always ready to step through.

Genre Loyalist

Comforted by the familiar and devoted to their favourites, the Genre Loyalist knows exactly what they love and they stick with it. Whether it's fantasy, mystery, historical fiction or contemporary realistic fiction, they return to their chosen genre like an old friend, finding comfort and excitement in familiar themes.

History Buff

Captivated by the past, the History Buff seeks stories that bring bygone eras vividly to life. From ancient civilizations to wartime resilience, they love exploring how people lived, what they believed and how history shaped the world today. Whether it's walking the cobbled streets of a medieval village or standing in the shadow of ancient pyramids imagining the lives of those who built them, these readers are drawn to tales that blend facts with emotional depth. For them, every historical fiction book is a portal to understanding humanity through time. This reader finds meaning in the lives, struggles and triumphs of those who came before.

Hobby Hunter

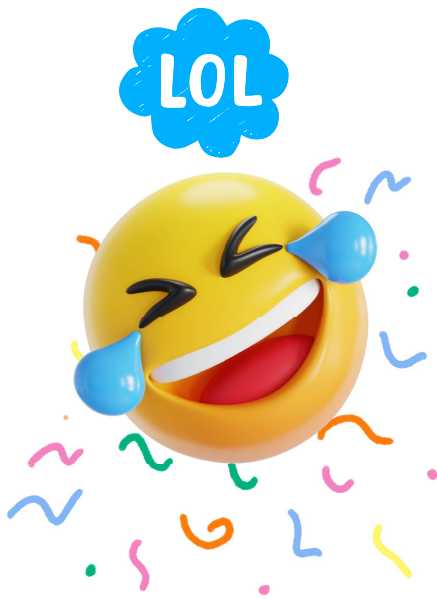

Inspired by interests beyond the page, the Hobby Hunter reads to fuel their passions and pick up new ones. Whether it's drawing, coding, cooking, music, or sports, this reader is always on the lookout for books that match their favorite activities. They love discovering stories, guides, and facts that help them learn, improve, or simply enjoy their hobbies even more. They enjoy learning new skills, finding inspiration and diving deeper into the hobbies they already adore.

Knowledge Builder

The Knowledge Builder reads to understand, explore, and grow their thinking. Driven by curiosity, they love discovering how things work, why things happen, and what ideas shape the world. From science and history to big questions and bold facts, they collect knowledge like building blocks, stacking one discovery on top of another. They read to understand, explore and grow, always asking “why” and “how.”

Laughter Seeker

The Laughter Seeker dives into stories that tickle the funny bone and spark big belly laughs. Whether it's witty banter, a hilarious character, or laugh-out-loud memoirs, the Laughter Lover seeks joy in every page. For the Laughter Seeker, reading is all about giggles, grins and the joy of a good laugh.

LEGACY PATHFINDER

The Legacy Pathfinder is drawn to stories that stand the test of time. They find inspiration in the lives of trailblazers, quiet heroes, and changemakers whose impact echoes across generations. This reader connects deeply with people who've made a difference. Whether it's a scientist who made an important discovery, an activist who sparked change, or a thinker whose ideas endure, this reader explores stories to understand not just what someone did, but why it mattered.

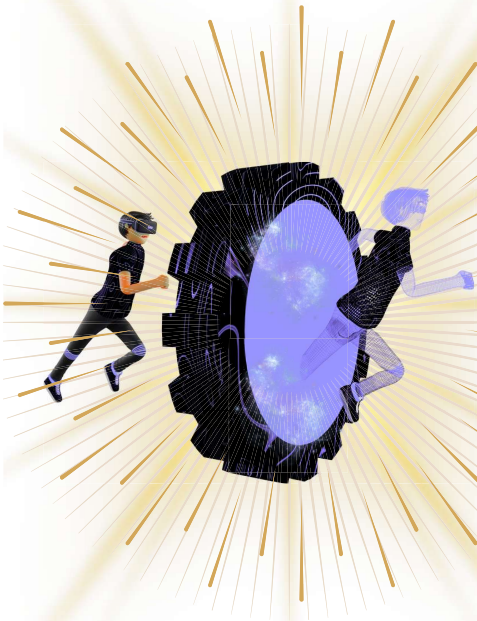

Mystery Decoder

The Mystery Decoder loves stories full of secrets, puzzles and surprise twists. They read like detectives, spotting clues, asking clever questions and trying to solve the mystery before the last page. This reader thrives on suspense, surprise and plot twists. Whether it's a stolen treasure, a puzzling disappearance, a hidden message, or a suspicious character, this reader is always thinking, guessing and decoding. For the Mystery Decoder, every book is a case to crack and a challenge to beat; reading is a thrilling investigation.

Time Traveller

The Time Traveller is drawn to stories where time bends and blurs. They love slipping between centuries, watching past and present collide and discovering how one moment can ripple across eras. For this reader, books are portals not just to history, but to alternate timelines, mysterious futures, and different realities where characters meet across time. The Time Traveller is drawn to layered narratives, mysterious connections and characters who journey across time to solve puzzles, change destinies, or simply discover who they are. They are captivated by tales that ask, What if time didn't move in a straight line?